

Screwball
Opentype font v1.5
©2020 Harold Lohner
All Rights Reserved

SCREWBALL looks like whimsical hand-lettering. It's unpredictable with lots of close-fitting pairs. It was inspired by the hand-lettered titles of the movie What's Up, Doc? (1972), designed by The Gold West Inc.

Version 1.5 includes an expanded character set and many alternate characters that make use of Opentype features to create a more hand-lettered look, as well as improved spacing and kerning.

What's Up, Doc? is a personal favorite, directed by Peter Bogdanovich, starring Barbra Streisand, Ryan O'Neal, and, in her first film, the late Madeline Kahn, to whose memory this font is dedicated.

Non-profit, not-for-profit, charity use: You may use SCREWBALL without charge but only with the requirement that the non-profit organization sends Harold's Fonts one example of the finished item and a receipt for a $99 product donation.

For profit, commercial use: You can easily arrange licensing through Font Brothers, please contact stuart@fontbros.com

See all my fonts at haroldsfonts.com